John Aheto

Creative Director and IT Officer

Accra, Ghana | contact@johnaheto.com | johnaheto.com

I work across software, IT operations and visual identity. My practice connects the way a system works with the way people understand and use it.

Experience

Viemmaco

Creative Director and IT Officer | July 2026 — Present

Work across business software, IT operations and the visual identity of the Viemmaco parent company.

Develop point-of-sale and inventory workflows for its subsidiary, Viemmaco Aluminium Company Ltd, connecting sales, payments, stock and production.

Consider typography, colour and composition across company communications and brand applications.

Selected projects

LOGRETTA

Independent research | Architecture and software development

A quantitative trading research project connecting market analysis, model decisions, risk controls and execution records. The portfolio dashboard and account figures are illustrative; they are not verified trading results.

Telecastt

Active development | Product design and software development

Browser-based companion displays for spare computers over a local network. The project explores mirrored and tiled views, adaptive WebRTC streaming, and mouse, keyboard and text clipboard support through a host companion.

Education

Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology

BSc Information Technology | In progress

Practice and tools

Software: TypeScript, React, Node.js, WebRTC, Python and C++.

Creative practice: brand identity, typography, composition and interface design.